Sobriety Checkpoint set for Santa Fe County

Santa Fe — State Police will be conducting a sobriety checkpoint Saturday evening June 5th in Santa Fe County.

Sobriety Checkpoints are one of the most powerful weapons in the battle to reduce drunken driving. The checkpoints not only help to get drunks off the road but are an important educational tool, these are living breathing bill boards that will take you to jail so you can contemplate the poor choice to drink and drive.
