Dear Sheriff,

The New Mexico Court Security Certification Class spearheaded by Supreme Court Chief Justice Edward Chavez has at long last been finalized and classes will begin soon. This training is for sworn and civilian court personnel. The first 2 ½ days are for sworn and security personnel. The final half of the class is for both security and civilian personnel.

This state accredited 40 hour course covers the gambit from introduction to the New Mexico Courts to Dealing with IEDs and Mailroom Security. This course may be used to cover you personnel needs to meet the 40 hr biennium requirement for advanced training.

This course provided to you at no cost thanks to the New Mexico Department of Homeland Security and Emergency Management who has provided the funding not only for the class but for travel and per-diem as well. NMDHSEM will provide hands on instruction at the end of the week for attendees in submitting the reimbursement forms.

Accompanying this correspondence is a copy of the registration form that may be copied or e-mailed to those you would like to send for them to fill in. Registration can be completed by e-mailing the forms back to us at Randcconsults@aol.com or by sending the forms via US postage to PO BOX 2746, Moriarty, New Mexico 87035. Registration forms can also be accessed on the NMDPS Training web-site by clicking on: www.dps.nm.org/training and following the link to Court Security training.

Please feel free to send whomever you wish as there is not a limit on class size. There are only 3 class sessions scheduled at this time but the Chief Justice is hoping for funding for additional classes.

The dates and locations for the classes are listed below.
